DIRECT PRIMARY CARE

YOUR DOCTOR, YOUR TIME, YOUR PLAN

BY LAURA LONG

“The patient experience begins and ends with compassion.” – Jean Watson

It's been said that health is the first wealth. Justin and I have been open about the health challenges I've faced over the past several years, and that truth has never felt more real. When your health is uncertain, everything else takes a back seat. It shifts your perspective. It deepens your gratitude. It reminds you what truly matters.

Healthcare is meant to be personal. Just as with your finances, having a unique plan customized to you, and an expert in your corner to communicate with and support your journey is essential. And like any good plan, it should be flexible, comprehensive – a way to achieve sustainable goals with tangible results.

This month, Diazo highlights Coronado Health Direct Primary Care, a concierge medical practice.

CORONADO HEALTH DPC

ACCESSIBLE | AFFORDABLE | EXCEPTIONAL

Coronado Health Direct Primary Care provides accessible, affordable, and exceptional healthcare—when and where you need it. Life is hard, getting great healthcare shouldn't be.

Our concierge-style approach fits your busy lifestyle. By cutting out the red tape, the direct primary care (DPC) model makes healthcare more accessible for everyone. Through our monthly membership, we put patients first with transparent, affordable care. Membership operates on a flat-rate fee schedule and works with or without insurance.

Whether in person, via telehealth, or even at home, we're here for you. Longer appointments are a cornerstone of the DPC model, giving us time to understand your health goals and get to know you personally to treat the whole person. If you're on the go, we'll respond to our patients promptly via text, email, or phone—meeting them where they are. We're committed to building strong rapport, getting to know your history, providing empathy alongside clinical insight to foster better physical, mental, and emotional well being overall.

Healthcare is an ongoing conversation, and we're honored to be part of your wellness journey. No surprises. No waiting. Just simple, high-quality care.
